Summary of Site Visit by Padmanava on January 2, 2015

- 1. Discussed with Mina di for current issues. The questions from Atlanta and additional queries regarding the self-defense training.
- 2. Collected annual report and the audit report
- 3. Visited the Night shelter. Kids performed. Music, Dances, Then, some recent issues are discussed with Govt inspection Took few photos for younger kids.
- 4. Checked other place for boys they selected for rent
- 5. Went back to Nishtha office, the self-defense training was just started. Talked to the girls. Being their last session they merged all 3 groups. (70%jagaran girls). Also talked to Kasturi and Anindita the trainers
- 6. Went to Damdama, the jagaran kids started telling the tragic stories of violence that happened to their friends/relatives and how they are trying to raise awareness, more performance from them (took a video).
- 7. Talked to the girls in spoken English and computer classes. They were telling their experiences and it was good.
- 8. went to see some of their homes. the ones badly damaged after floods and how they survive out of the new embroidery work. It pays really less <2000/month with full family effort.
- 9. Went to a Matri dal meeting. They enacted a drama on women torture. I was spellbound and people started crying after it ended.
- 10. Had some detailed discussions with mothers why they should let their daughters dream beyond marriages.
- 11. Came back and had detailed discussions about the training to the trainers. They were really worried about the night shelter kids' vulnerability. Also, one of them runs a govt home in Liluah. They gave some private home contact which can help Nishtha.
- 12. More discussion en-route home in the car with the trainers affiliated to INSPIRATION.

Minadi with the new center for Boys

Padmanava with Girls from Nishtha Project Jagaran