ARCHITECT OF MODERN INDIA

(DR. Chukka Ramaiah)

Today India is one of the top most countries in the world in the field of Science and technology. This is because a large number of eminent engineers were produced by this country in the last three decades India is having a number of world renowned technological institutions like Indian institute of technology to groom the technocrats.

For the last three decades most of these eminent scholars were produced from this country particularly from these premier institutions after rigorous training to compete and get admission. The moment we discuss about IIT, everyone in this country will recollect the name of renowned eminent scholar, Educationalist whose name is synonymous to the premier institute of India. He is popularly known as IIT Ramaiah. In fact no introduction is needed for Dr. Chukka Ramaiah. We can call him proudly as "Father of Modern Technological India" since the technological strengths are planted from the Dr Ramaiah's foundation. Most of the other similar institutes came up subsequently in the country to impart similar skills to the students. In a way he is a beacon for all the similar institutions established in later years. Therefore the "Father of Modern Technological India" is aptly suited to him.

Dr. Chukka Ramaiah born on 20 November 1925 in Gudur village of Warangal district in Andhra Pradesh to Smt. Narasamma and Sri. Anantharamaiah. He was married to late Lakshmi Bai. He is an acclaimed expert in IIT coaching in mathematics. —

Dr. Chukka Ramaiah from the beginning has a strong determination to serve the society by producing many eminent engineers who are essential and main pillars for nation's prosperity and to build modern Technological India and to see the India on the top on the international arena.

He has chosen a noble profession of teaching and started his career as teacher and served in various capacities and retired as principal of the AP Residential School, Nagarjuna Sagar in 1983. The zeal of Dr. Ramaiah has not stopped. He decided to start teaching again privately. He owes much of his success in his post-retirement. He moved to Hyderabad and settled in Nallakunta Hyderabad. He became very popular and thousands of students got into IITs since its launching in 1935. He was instrumental in setting up an IIT in Andhra Pradesh.

He is presently in active politics and serving this State as MLC since 2007. He is a strong votary for the statehood of Telangana and often speaks of poverty and backwardness of the region. His dream of getting statehood to Telangana became imminent and most likely to form shortly. Chukka Ramaiah authored over 16 books in Telugu mainly focusing on education like Chinna Paatam, Desadesallo Vidya etc.

A man with simplicity, he had successfully achieved a unique place in the hearts of the people of this country as "IIT Ramaiah" and whole nation is proud of this great son of the soil. We are privileged by his August presence today. His presence amidst us definitely an auspicious day and an inspiration to those who want to advent to achieve the glory in any of the field they choose to be.
