Power of an Hour!

Each year, people from around the world come together in a demonstration of great human spirit, to help educate underprivileged children in India. Donors symbolically Work An Hour towards the cause of children’s education by donating an hour’s worth or more of their salary.

Our Impact

Every year Asha for Education partners hundreds of grassroots organizations to bring quality education to some of the poorest, vulnerable and remote communities in India. We reach well over several thousands of children across India to bring about a real socio-economic change through education!

How can you help!

Asha thrives on the spirit of volunteerism. It’s the concerned world citizens, like you, who come together to help induce this change on ground! Thousands of volunteers, and many hundreds donors help our project partners continue to make a difference in lives of children every day!

Be the change!

Apna Skool - Jagriti Bal Vikas Samiti

a group of 23 schools spread across the outskirts of Kanpur, UP, providing education to the underprivileged children of migrant workers. These children are displaced from their native villages for majority of the year due to their parents’ seasonal work. This causes them to never be able to attend a regular school. Thus, they quickly get incorporated into child labor force and girls into household responsibilities. Apna Skool acts as a bridge to prepare such children for normal school by equipping them with Reading, Writing, and Arithmetic skills in a shorter duration than regular school-year.
