Dear Vishweshwara,

Thanks for the CD photos. No apologies for the timing. These photos are a bonus besides our regular photo documentation taken on simpler equipment!

Yes the Project fares well. The rains were heavy and could have spelt destruction. But now the clouds lift, sun shines in happy bursts and crops grow to ripening. Ground water would seem substantially recharged. Other parts of Maharashtra are reportedly ravaged by floods. How else can nature rejuvenate with humankind aggrandising without restoration of the environment.

I will also be emailing Chidan + yourself about the Project.

But its always good (for me) to write as we used to.

Sincerely,

Dr. Godfrey Dama
